

UNICELL®
thinking healthcare™

Created specifically to meet the exacting requirements of today's healthcare providers.

The Unicell Storage and Transport System enables you to stage, store and deliver the materials and supplies required at a modern healthcare facility.

The systems basic component is high strength structural molded cells in mix-and-match sizes. They can be configured to meet any materials storage requirement with a complete range of interchangeable fittings, from trays and drawers to inserts and shelves.

Unicell units are one-piece solid construction.

- Excellent strength to weight ratio
- Safe, durable unit
- Self-contained
- Closed system maintains aseptic environment

Unicell units have a polyurethane exterior coating.

- Polyurethane coating can achieve a greater resistance to certain chemicals and greater abrasion

Unicell C27D provides 14.82 cubic feet of interior storage space.

- C27D cells have 42% more interior space than the competitor's locker
- Tray depth is 17 13/16"

Unicell interior components all have positive stops.

- Positive stops prevent accidental pullout, minimizing supply damage

Unicell roll-front door is bi-parting and is self-contained (rolls inside unit).

- Unicell door provides quicker access and doesn't expose supplies to exterior contaminants

Unicell rail attaches directly to (on center) studs.

- Easier and less costly than competition's installations requiring wall backing

Unicell units have a 4-position adjustable mounting key.

- Customer gets 3 more mounting heights and easy replacement of mounting keys

Unicell standoff key spans virtually entire width of the cell.

- Full span standoff distributes load evenly and reduces potential of loads puncturing wall

Unicell C27D has adjustable position retainer bar for additional strength for heavy loads.

- Additional rigidity provides customer security regarding heavy loads

Unicell distribution cart has a mechanical device which locks directly to cell bottom when transporting a cell.

- Unicell mechanical device automatically secures cells to distribution cart, enhancing user safety

Healthcare Environments that Work for You
